CHAPTER I.	- - - - -	17
Capt. Jeff Resigned his Commission as Captain of Co. G, Seventeenth Texas Volunteer Infantry, McCullough's Brigade, Walker's Division, Feb. 19, 1863, on account of bad health, and went to his home in Burnett Co., Texas.
CHAPTER II.	- - - - -	23
Indian depredations come thick and fast and the Big Foot Indian Kiowa Chief, the most formidable enemy of the frontier, and his wonderful seeming providential escapes.
CHAPTER III.	- - - - -	36
The disobedience of orders and the timidity of the women, doubtless prolonged the wily Chief's existence.
CHAPTER IV.	- - - - -	48
The Civil War has ended. Gen. Lee has surrendered and our Captain Jeff is hounded as a wolf by Federal soldiers, in which the heroism of a true woman and noble wife is illustrated.
CHAPTER V.	- - - - -	55
Captain Jeff surrenders to the Federal authorities, in which the old adags proves true a "Friend in need is a friend indeed"
CHAPTER VI.	- - - - -	60
Capt. Jeff wrongfully indited by the civil law, for which he makes a bad break, but through the Christianizing influence of the noble wife, he guards himself against like occurrences.
CHAPTER VII.	- - - - -	62
His wife's little tea party.
CHAPTER VIII.	- - - - -	65
Richard Coke is elected governor. A battalion of Rangers is ordered. Capt. Jeff is commissioned and raises a Company, goes on duty and renews his pursuit of the Big Foot Indian.
CHAPTER IX.	- - - - -	73
Sergeant Andrew Mather is sent on a scout in Callahan county Camps near Caddo Peak. John Parsons is sent out to kill a deer for meat, encounters Big Foot and band, makes his celebrated shot, Big Foot dodges the bullet and makes his escape

CHAPTER X.	-	-	-	-	-	-	77
Lieutenant Best is sent on a scout. Camps on Jim Ned and is attacked after night by Big Foot and band. Cool bravery and discipline whipped him off with the loss of only one horse.
CHAPTER XI.	-	-	-	-	-	-	80
High water discipline and the Ranger feast.
CHAPTER XII	-	-	-	-	-	-	85
Sargeant Mather is sent on a scout in Runnels county in which discipline, coupled with individual bravery, kills the largest bear in West Texas with a bowie knife.
CHAPTER XIII.	-	-	-	-	-	-	92
Captain Jeff's lucky No. '9' and the promptings of the Still small voice fully verified.
